Alipse Systems Expands Footprint with Strategic Acquisition of Infinity Data Corp.

BOSTON, MA – May 6, 2025 – Alipse Systems, led by visionary CEO Tom Sullivan, announced today its acquisition of Infinity Data Corp., a leading provider of payment processing solutions based in Foxboro, MA. This strategic move significantly strengthens Alipse Systems' market presence and enhances its capability to deliver unparalleled financial technology solutions.

Tom Sullivan expressed his enthusiasm about the acquisition: "We're thrilled to welcome Infinity Data Corp. into the Alipse family. This deal underscores our commitment to growth, innovation, and excellence in fintech solutions. Working with 733Park was pivotal in this process. Lane Gordon and his team at 733Park have consistently demonstrated why they are our trusted advisors—expertly sourcing, negotiating, and closing transformative deals. Their strategic insight and relentless drive made this acquisition seamless."

Infinity Data Corp. CEO Brian Mills remarked, "Joining forces with Alipse Systems represents a fantastic opportunity for Infinity Data Corp. to leverage extensive resources and expertise to better serve our customers and accelerate our growth."

733Park, a premier M&A advisory firm headquartered in Boston, served as the exclusive buy-side advisor to Alipse Systems on this acquisition. Lane Gordon, CEO of 733Park, commented, "We're honored to support Tom Sullivan and Alipse Systems in their impressive growth trajectory. This acquisition exemplifies the power of strategic mergers in the fintech and payments space."
